

Manchester – Florina Exchange

May-June 2020

How do we record experiences of place? This project is an international rural arts residency exchange for students from Dept of Fine and Applied Arts, University of Western Macedonia (Greece), and Dept of Art & Performance, Manchester School of Art (UK).

These two week-long study visits will focus on walking-art and performance practices, in response to borders in north east England and north-west Greece. Participants are invited to develop artistic responses to natural, political and industrial pasts, present and futures.

Manchester – Florina Exchange

May-June 2020

Week 1: Psarades Artistic Station, in Prespes National Park, Greece.

Hosted by University of Western Macedonia (Florina).

Week 2: Allenheads Contemporary Arts, in North Pennines AONB, UK.

Hosted by Manchester School of Art.

Week 1: Florina – Psarades, Greece

Western Macedonia. Fifty years of war and atrocities: war of liberation from Ottoman Empire.... WW1 conflict with Austria-Hungary & Nazi Occupation & Mussolini invasion... some of the worst battles of Greek Civil War... anti-communist oppression of families. Last battle in August 1949. Unemployment rate is 27% , among highest in EU. Predominantly ethnic Greek, with 0.5% ethnic Macedonian Slavophone speakers.

Environmental and cultural NGOs working across the three countries.

Tripoint border with Albania and North Macedonia. 2009 sustainability treaty signed by three countries.

1500 people live in 500km² of Prespes Park

University of Western Macedonia School of Fine and Applied Arts, in Florina – “the gateway to the Balkans”.

Two lakes - Megali Prespa and Mikri Prespa.
Mountains, wet meadows, forests, trail.

Transboundary wildlife and cultural protection, habitat restoration.

Contrast between heritage battlefield and natural rewilding & rural regeneration.

Many threatened and endemic mammals (small rodents, wolves, bears, wildcats, otter, wild boar, deer), fish, reptiles, bats. Reed-bed habitats support amphibians & bullfrogs.

270 bird species, some threatened, eg. kite, eagle. Rare waterbirds, eg. pelican colony, flocking on lakes. Cormorant nesting ground.

Rare flora, eg. St Georges Cedar, juniper groves (which only exist in Greece in EU). Orchids.

Psarades Artistic Station. Ethos of transforming the region, working with local community and non-human animals.

Artists and scholars from 23 countries and 5 continents. Prespes as open workshop. Part of wider Visual March to Prespes network of walking and sound artists, gathering since 2007 in Prespes, Thessaloniki, France and Cyprus. Methodology of 'walkshops'.

International Encounters / Conference: Walking Practice / Walking Art / Walking Bodies, 1-7 July 2019

Ros Bandt, Borderless, performance in ruined
Byzantine basilica at Agios Achilleios.

Ana Villas Boas & Geert Vermeire, Triple Borders, June 2019, swimming performance along the tri-point border line

Lakeside cliff cave hermitages,
frescoes, icon paintings.
C14th -15th oppression of Christian monks under Byzantine empire.

Panaghia Eleousa Hermitage

Yannis Ziogas,
University of Western Macedonia

Many roadside & village statues commemorate Greek democratic army civil war heroes, eg. Petros Kokkales - a communist guerrilla medic who established cave hospital & command centre in Vrontero (on Albanian border), then died in exile in 1962.

The Trenches of Prespes / Crests of Time, June 2019
by Yannis Ziogas & Christos Ioannidis

Walking memory - WW1 border trenches with former Yugoslavia, constructed by Greek, Russian, British and Indo-China armies. Ho Chi Minh and other Vietcong elite trained here. 1950s-80s, a NATO militarised border.

Many abandoned homes and buildings in underpopulated villages, still recovering after C20th conflicts.

Walking praxis as both medium and outcome.

Triadic encounter between practices, art and bodies; topoi (places) where people walk become an open field - sites of visual research and artistic expression.

Meeting points of cultures, history, society and environment that interact with the Walking Body's energy.

Week 2: Manchester – Allenheads, UK

UNESCO Global Geopark. Upland area, in the north of England. Remote moorland, broad green valleys, peat lands, and scattered stone-built settlements.

North Pennines
Area of Natural Beauty (AONB).

Hadrian's Wall: ancient northern border of Roman Empire : tariff barrier, military control, security.

Anglo-Scottish border region shares similar challenges to communities and countryside.

Allenheads is near tri-point border of Cumbria, County Durham & Northumbria.

Allenheads Contemporary Arts: The old schoolhouse

View from the old schoolhouse

Pine crops

Grouse shooting moors

Layers of carboniferous limestone, shale and sandstone. Residues of former lead and fluorspar mining in spoil heaps & ruins.

Rachel Clewlow, Seven Walks Seven Gates in Seven Colours, 2013

Hollington & Kyprianou,
The Future residency

Ji Hyun Park, 95% as far as the eye can see residency

Liam Murray, Hypotheses Non Fingo/ I Feign No Hypotheses, 2012

Tod Hanson, Tectonic Plate

Alan Smith, Chthonic, 2017

Communal studio with equipped screening & performance space. Bring all materials and fieldwork equipment.

North Pennines Dark Sky Observatory: fully equipped for viewing lunar, planetary and deep field objects.

Accommodation in dorms & twin rooms, plus camping and caravan.

Communal living space in old schoolhouse

Walking art

- walking as autonomous art form
- since the 1960s: Land Art, Ephemeral Art
- aesthetics
- psychogeography, mapping, spatial narrative
- gendering, queering
- borders, migration, trauma
- nomadism
- environmentalism, re-wilding, commons, Anthropocene
- ethnography
- music, dance, song
- pedagogy
- performance art
- media art
- activism and collective memory

More info:

www.spp.gr

icowaf.eetf.uowm.gr

walkingart.interartive.org

www.acart.org.uk

www.northpennines.org.uk

Society for Protection of Prespa

International Encounters /

Walking Conference

“Walking Practice / Walking

Aesthetics”: Interartive special issue

Allenheads Contemporary Arts

North Pennines AONB